

Who would use a pet cemetery or have their pet cremated?

- Do you take your pet to the groomer or veterinarian on a regular basis?
- Does your pet share your household?
- Do you take your pet with you on vacation?
- Do you make sure your pet is well cared for if you can't take them?
- Is your pet attached to one or more persons in your family?
- Do you buy your pet special gifts for: (Christmas, Easter, Birthdays or other special occasions)?
- Does your pet sleep with you? or another person of the family?
- Do you take your pet for rides in the car just to have them near you?
- Do you take your pet out for special treats: to the bank, McDonalds or the local ice cream parlor?
- Is your pet happy to see you when you get home?
- Do you give your pet a special pat or hug?
- Does your pet sit at your feet or on your lap while watching TV, eating dinner?
- Do you slip them special treats when you're not supposed to?
- Do you take photos or special portraits of your pet?
- Has your pet done something heroic?
- Does your pet have a special trick that you "show off" when company comes?
- Does your pet provide you with special pride and comfort?
- Do you brag about your pet to others?
- Do other people think your pet is special?
- Do you share secrets with your pet?
- Do you talk to your pet, and it seems to understand what you are saying?
- Does your pet have a special spot where it loves to be?
- Do you feel lonely when your pet is not with you?
- Is your dog a special working companion: special hunting dog, lead sled dog, working stock dog, guard dog, champion show dog, seeing eye for the blind dog, tracking or police service dog, special brood bitch, stud dog, or other special service type dog?

If you answered any of the questions above with a "yes", you may use a pet cemetery or cremation service.
